The Grand Prix series is back with the ever-popular GT series. From cars to boats, the GT series has been famous for all things motorsport. This time, the GT series is about the world's best locomotives. A collection of classic and modern trains of different nationalities in a World Championship. You can customise the livery, engine power and even design the cab. All in all a truly unique locomotive simulator. Recommended Requirements OS: Windows 7 and later Processor: Dual core CPU, 2.8 GHz or equivalent Memory: 2GB RAM Graphics: DirectX compatible graphics card with shader model 2.0 or equivalent Sound Card: DirectX compatible sound card Drive Space: The game requires 3.25 GB of free space. Key Features Lots of locomotives to choose from. Easy to play but hard to master. Authentic locomotive sound and realistic engine and handling feel. Choose between Easy and Realistic game modes. Compete with others on the global leaderboard. Infinite game modes. Just get more locomotives! You can now also get more locomotives via DLC! The full pack comes with: 3 locomotives: GT9 Roadrunner (English GP9) GT9 Chikago Maglev Express (Japanese GP9) GT9 Locomotive Factory (German GP9) Discover a world of racing. Drive up to 12 locomotives and compete in regular races, qualifying rounds and final championships. Follow the 1st: Main St Johnstown, PA (July 14, 2009) - The 2009 New York Giants are previewing their regular season with a trip to Johnstown, PA this Friday. The Giants will face the St. John's Red Storm in the first of two games against local schools. The game will be played at the Johnstown War Memorial in the morning and then the mid-day contest will be played at Lockhart Stadium in the afternoon. While football season is just getting underway, there are still some tickets available for the game. The Giants are trying to find players to play for free, so if you were going to go to the game, stop by the team store at the game to get some tickets in exchange for volunteering. No coach will be on the field to allow the players to work with the

The engine of the new GT GP9 model is available as free DLC in December. This content is entirely free and not just a one time thing! The new '10th Anniversary' version of the Grand Prix engine is free for all game owners (even the current premium version)! The new engine features a massive 110cc lossless and seamless engine for high-speed racing. The detail for this iconic engine is never-before-seen and racing fans can enjoy some truly amazing engine watching animations to go alongside the real time performance of the engine and fully custom cab. Traditionally, the engine's name was drawn in the centre of the pitboard, as it was a sign used by drivers and team members to indicate the performance of the engine and the speed of the car. The name has been revised to the new GT GP9, and is now displayed in the temperature gauge, as a reference for the driver. The new engine was first made available to fans to play with, and you can now play some actual real time racing sessions online using this DLC. This is also the last GT game in the series to use the traditional pitboard name. In this session, you can choose one of 2 livery styles of the GT GP9: • Free livery (Black): The Free livery comes with the standard features such as A-arms and weight otray, and no decals. • Premium livery (Blue): The Premium livery is included with decals, front wings and an aftermarket hat (helmet). Features: Grand Prix Edition • Custom Design • Custom Cab • Fan-Modelled Cab • 7 Position Weight Bar • Custom Chassis • Custom Lights • Light Chassis • Fan-Modelled Decals • Fan-Modelled Wheel • Fan-Modelled A-arms • Fan-Modelled Tracking • Fan-Modelled Cab Specs • Fan-Modelled hat • Fan-Modelled Headlights • Fan-Modelled Wheel Specs • Fan-Modelled Steering • Fan-Modelled Cockpit Specs • Fan-Modelled Car Specs • Fan-Modelled Chassis • Fan-Modelled Horn Specs • Fan-Modelled Hatch Specs • Fan-Modelled Fuel Specs • Fan-Modelled Heater Specs • Fan-Modelled Engine Specs • Fan-Mod d41b202975

The removal of obstructive sleep apnea (OSA) is traditionally performed by uvulopalatopharyngoplasty (UPPP). However, additional procedures are often required to adjust the tongue position after UPPP. The aim of this study was to evaluate the results of simultaneous total correction of OSA by UPPP and tongue advancement procedure (TAP). We reviewed records of all patients undergoing UPPP and TAP for OSA at our institution from January 2003 through December 2005. We also reviewed preoperative characteristics of these patients. The patients were treated by TAP consisting of two or three palatopharyngoplasty procedures along with tongue repositioning using anteriorly-based musculo-fascial flaps. The mean follow-up period was 31.5 +/- 8.9 months. The mean Epworth Sleepiness Scale score decreased from 16.1 +/- 4.8 before surgery to 4.0 +/- 2.5 after surgery (P
